Human Slips

Slips are a subconscious mind type error. Humans do it unintentionally. Slips normally happen where people perform action using short term memory.

Capture Error

Most of the time I spend my time on my laptop Edge browser. Whatever I search on the internet or read documents I use edge browser. So when I power on my laptop my hand automatically goes to open edge browser icon instead of another application.

Description Error

My grandmother filled up a 7up bottle with soybean oil and put it on the dining table. I didn't think that it was an oil bottle so I thought that it was a 7up bottle so I drink it and then realize it was not 7up it was oil.

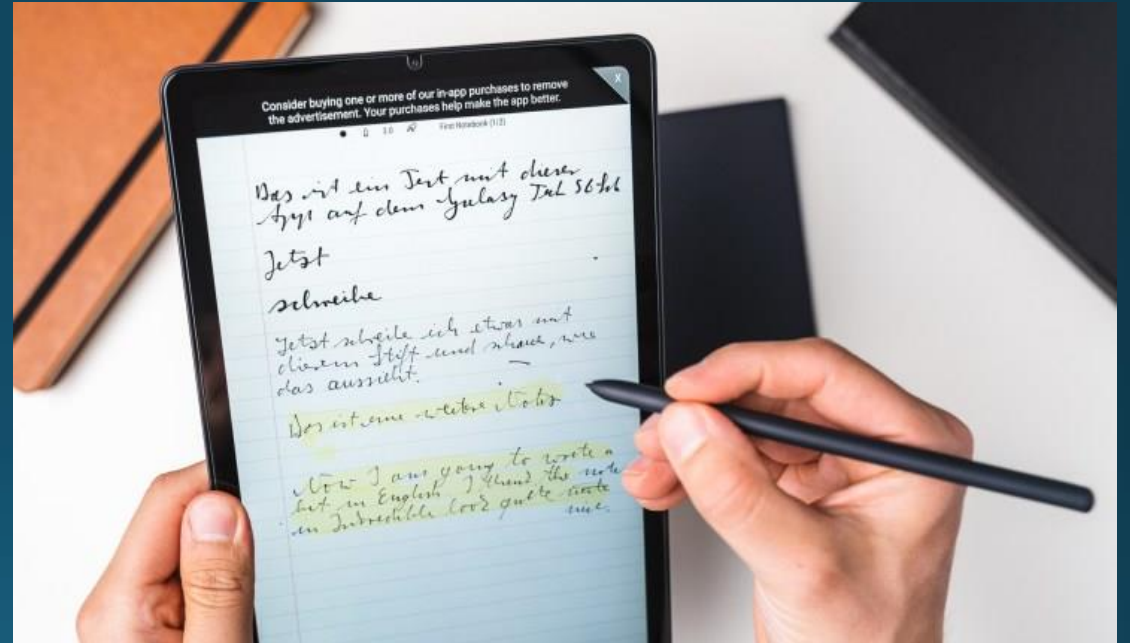

Data-Driven Error

Sometimes, When I chat on social media attentively if anybody calls me at that time then I mistakenly say what I am chatting with another person.

Associative Activation Error

When I write something on my tab with a touch pen, I try to write it down another things on paper by mistake with that pen.

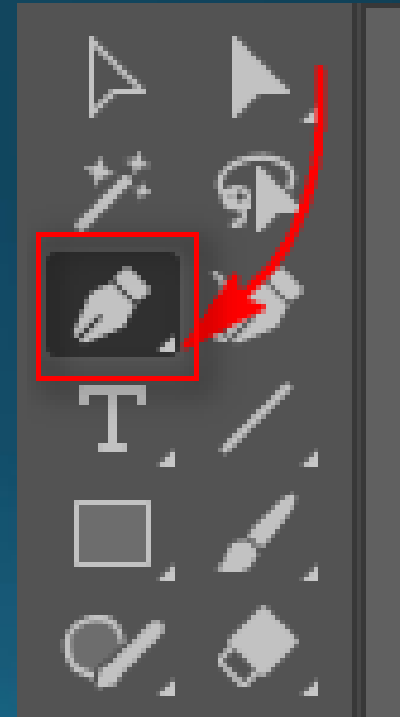

Loss-of-Activation Error

Sometimes I think different things.
Then I think I have to write down any note otherwise I will forget but suddenly somebody knocks on me and I go there and when I came back didn't remember what I want to note.

Mode Error

When I design on adobe illustrator I mistakes those option which contain more option in one place

Thank You 🤗
